

Retail Food Protection Services

Specializing in FDA Regulatory Matters

EAS Consulting Group

A Certified Group Company

The Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) places unique challenges on retailers. From supply chain and contract manufacturer management, to transportation and storage requirements, to own label product claims and marketing, retailers are touched at every level by compliance regulations and may also shoulder increased liability.

EAS Consulting Group understands the unique and complex challenges facing retailers and own label distributors. We are a leading provider of regulatory services to FDA and USDA industries and assist clients with developing regulatory strategies, implementing quality assurance programs, and helping contract manufacturers comply with federal regulations.

Our unique team of former FDA, USDA, and State regulatory officials, and industry experts offer proactive and actionable solutions that strengthen your compliance programs and lessen your regulatory risk. We look forward to being your trusted expert.
